Customer Success Story

AnnieMac Home Mortgage's decision to leverage Clovercrest Media Group's video production services was driven by the desire to enhance visibility for their business offerings. Recognizing the potential of video in capturing attention, AnnieMac aimed to reach a wider audience. Their choice to partner with CMG was influenced by the impressive portfolio of videos CMG had created, showcasing a blend of quality and affordability that resonated well with their needs.

With modest expectations going in, AnnieMac found the process with CMG seamless from concept to post-production. The filming day was as effortless as any regular day, with the CMG team ensuring a comfortable and smooth experience. Multiple versions of the video were delivered, catering to both TV and social platforms without additional charges, underlining CMG's commitment to customer satisfaction.

The CMG video not only met but exceeded AnnieMac's expectations, displaying both friendly pricing and high-quality outcomes. Though the response from their following was yet to be fully gauged, those who saw the video acknowledged its success. In the grander scheme, AnnieMac underscores the importance for any company to embrace video as a valuable medium for broadening their reach and promoting services.
